Senior Communications Manager at Santander

(Jan 2014 – May 2016) London

Santander is one of the world's largest banks by market capitalisation, with 102m customers globally and 193,000 employees. It has over 1,400 branches in the UK alone.

Heading up websites for Santander Corporate & Commercial and Cater Allen Private Bank, including all technical development, marketing optimisation, UX, content & SEO. (Traffic from search increased 195% on average and 982% for brand terms within 4 months of starting optimisation strategy).

Running paid display advertising campaigns, managing both creative and media buying agencies. The first display campaign ran was the most successful at driving engagement in the history of the Commercial Bank in the UK.

Introduced the first use of Programmatic Advertising in the Bank and PPC for Corporate and Commercial - the first campaign drove traffic from long tail search terms to the Bank's sector pages (e.g. manufacturing). As this strategy was not in use by our competitors, it was incredibly effective and low cost, so was adopted as always-on activity (achieving 150% above PPC conversion average for Financial Services brands & delivered a 162% traffic increase in 1 quarter).

Developing technology solutions for business development, including a bespoke 'product recommendation engine' to guide Relationship Managers on available products for their clients by simply answering a series of questions on their iPad. Also implemented website visitor identity detection at company level to instantly alert Relationship Managers to client/prospect web browsing activity to facilitate relevant and timely sales conversations.

Managing a team and £450k budget which was spent across multiple agencies to deliver marketing and digital development.
